

O2O (Over To Oracle) Migration Solution

Infosys offers O2O (Over To Oracle) Migration Solution to help customers adopt Oracle Fusion Middleware (FMW) as the product for their middleware platform. The solution helps overcome migration challenges and seamlessly transition from existing middleware platform to Oracle FMW platform, and minimize cost and effort investment for customers.

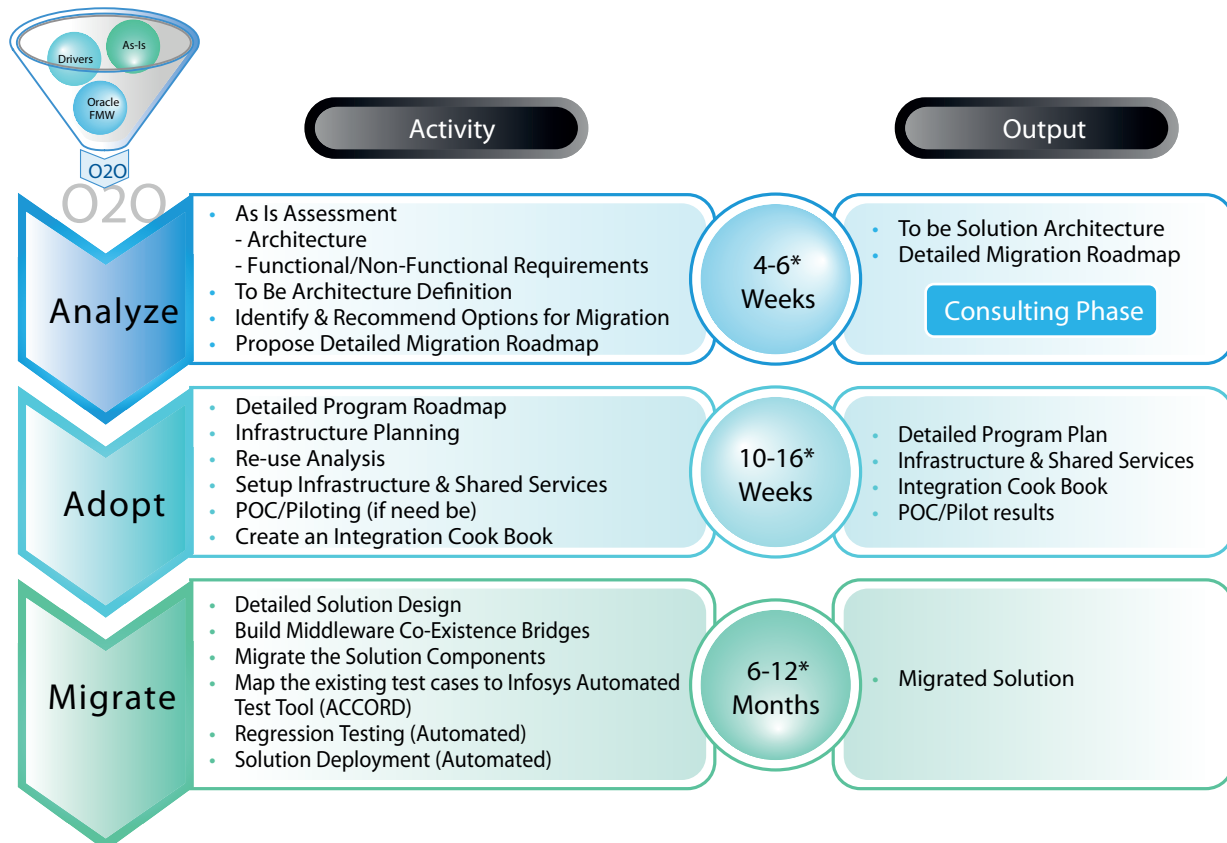

Approach

Infosys O2O Migration Solution is a phased approach for migration that includes assessment of current state to deployment.

The migration journey can be broadly categorized into the following 3 phases:

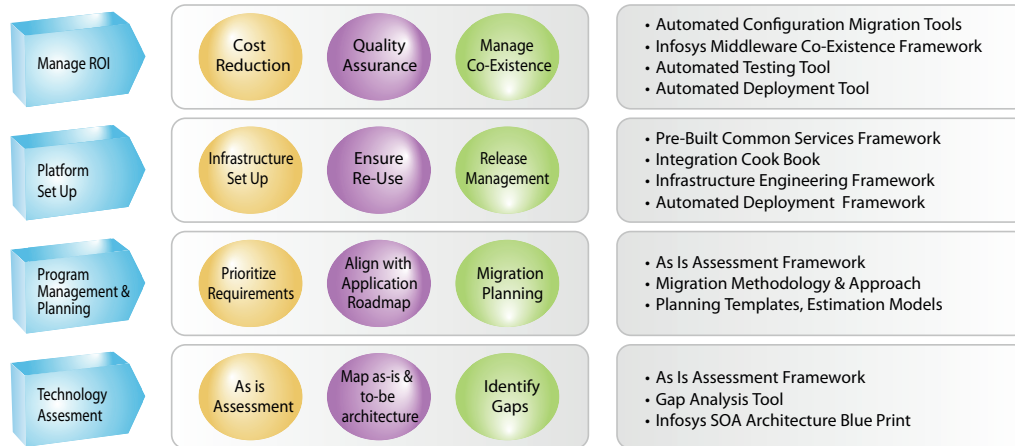

ANALYZE	As-Is landscape assessment and migration roadmap definition
ADOPT	Setting up of Oracle FMW infrastructure and shared services components
MIGRATE	Migration of existing integration solution to Oracle FMW

The solution defines a set of activities and outputs for each phase in the migration. Each phase provides a milestone to measure the status of migration as well as provide implementation direction. The components that are part of the O2O solution have been designed to accelerate the activities and provide foundation components for deployment.

How Migration Challenges are Addressed

Solution Benefits

- The phased approach allows for easier mitigation of risk associated with changes to an enterprise IT infrastructure
- Outcomes of utilizing the assessment tool, evaluation matrix enables in early identification of issues and gaps and provides mitigation plan for the same
- Pre-built components for shared services framework, guidelines and templates accelerates the migration process significantly and provides robust infrastructure for migration
- Tools to automate migration of configuration from other middleware products to Oracle Fusion Middleware reducing the effort / cost by 30-50%
- Significant reduction in time taken for migration owing to various O2O solution accelerators
- Automated test suites and deployment scripts aids in reduction of effort for testing and also reduction in manual testing errors and facilitates smooth deployment process
