

XY2XISM Migration Solution

SAP PI Overview

With the launch of NetWeaver platform and availability of SAP PI as the Process Integration platform, SAP has unleashed a powerful and strategic solution for enterprise's integration using the leading industry standards and adopting the new requirements of SOA. Companies who have significant SAP installations are at various stages of adopting NetWeaver from initial evaluation, Proof of Concepts to deployment as the enterprise level product.

SAP PI is the process integration layer for EAI and B2B, which is built to support wide ranging integration requirements using open industry standards and incorporates niche features to address simple file, IDoc interfacing to Web Services using Service Oriented Architecture framework. SAP PI is also the core solution in SAP's ESA (Enterprise Service Architecture) strategy and plays an important role in many of the SAP's next generation business products.

SAP PI product provides a set of standard adapters to connect to non-applications using different technologies like File, Database, Http, SMTP, JMS and also SAP Adapters for connecting to SAP Enterprise using IDoc's and RFC's.

Customer Scenario

Customers who have significant investments in SAP product suite, from a strategic level understand the need to align with NetWeaver and SAP PI, but are uncertain on the direction for SAP PI adoption and are cautious from a timeline and business risk perspective.

Because of the current investments in other middleware products, the overall migration costs and also due to the risk of business impact due to the migration of production interfaces, customers are unclear on when and how they should migrate. The customers are looking to better understand the risks and costs involved & the ROI they can expect to define a business case for such a migration in an accelerated timeframe.
