Infosys awarded SAP Top NetWeaver Partner in APAC

SAP has awarded Infosys Technologies Ltd (Infosys) as the business partner with the greatest number of certified NetWeaver consultants in the Asia Pacific region.

The award was presented to Infosys by Mr Hans Peter Klaey, President and CEO of SAP Asia Pacific, at an SAP conference in Singapore at the beginning of February.

Infosys Technologies currently employs 350 SAP Certified NetWeaver Consultants across its Asia Pacific operations. In conjunction with the award, it has committed to further increasing this capability to 1,000 people by the end of 2005.

Ivan Gomez, General Manager of Strategic Alliances Infosys Technologies (Australia) said: "We are extremely honoured to receive such high recognition from SAP. Our continued commitment to investing in technical enablement and consulting expertise is the foundation on which the success of our strategic partnership has been built."

John DuBois, VP of Alliances for SAP APA, added: "Infosys is at the very forefront of our International Offshore Partner (IOP) strategy and brings great NetWeaver capability to our Asia Pacific clients. We've had a great start to the year from a NetWeaver perspective and intend to build on this momentum."

Simon Dale, VP for SAP NetWeaver and my SAP ERP (Asia Pacific), said: "We're delighted with the focus and commitment Infosys has dedicated to our NetWeaver platform to date. Their impressive consulting expertise means that together, we can effectively service demand in the region and take some exciting solutions to market."

Commenting on the future Mr Rajesh Rao, Global Head of Infosys' SAP Practice, said: "It is our absolute commitment to have 1,000 NetWeaver Certified Consultants by the end of 2005. This heightened capability, combined with Infosys' predictability, processes and values, will give us an edge in the market."

Leveraging the Infosys NetWeaver consulting capability, SAP and Infosys will jointly look to market and implement a number of NetWeaver packaged solutions in 2005.
