Expansion of services and significant projects

Infosys launched ShoppingTrip360, an innovative solution for retailers and consumer packaged goods companies. Infosys' patent-pending technology platform offers real-time visibility into shopper and shelf activity through a network of wireless sensor-based applications.

Companies across the world continued to entrust Infosys with the responsibility of transforming their businesses, technology, and operations.

We are developing Business Intelligence strategy and technology architecture for an international auto major. We are enabling a leading online digital photo service provider to improve its customer engagement through behavior and conversion analyses, and long-term customer value analytics.

Clients partnered with Infosys to accomplish technology-led innovation. We are providing R&D services for a telecom equipment manufacturer. Infosys is involved in product development for an agri-engineering company, and is also re-engineering the client's existing products. Infosys has been engaged by an auto major to develop a Capacity Management System to facilitate collaboration with its suppliers. A manufacturer of diesel engines sought our technology consulting services for its employee on- boarding project. A steel major consulted us to redefine part of its IT organization.

Clients sought Infosys' expertise to achieve operational excellence. A pharmaceutical major engaged Infosys to maintain applications in its manufacturing and enabling functions globally. For a provider of power and automation technologies, we are globally implementing Microsoft CRM. An eyewear major chose us as its development partner for SAP IS retail implementation. We helped a global automotive supplier in an end-to-end implementation and rollout of Oracle 11i. A chemicals company selected Infosys as its preferred supplier to provide architecture services, application optimization and performance improvement services around its Web Content Management applications. An auto major sought our services in process engineering, as well as deployment and maintenance of applications. Infosys is helping a financial services company improve its Balance Transfer platform. We have been engaged by a leading telecom service provider to assist in reinventing its IT organization.

Infosys continued to grow in the emerging economies. We are providing best practice-based processes and a pricing model to a mining major that is looking to streamline its IT footprint. A petroleum company in the Middle East has engaged Infosys to streamline its HR business process and help its IT department in providing quality service to its users.

"We benefited from the depreciation of the rupee against the US dollar during the quarter which was partially offset by the sharp appreciation of the US dollar against all other major currencies," said V. Balakrishnan, Chief Financial Officer. "Our liquidity position continues to be strong with cash and cash equivalents reaching US$ 1.9 billion."
