

Title: The below graph represents the need for an internal champion among organisations

Description: The graph represents that 46% of organisations make digital accessibility a part of most of their assets and tend to use an in-house team. This indicates that having an internal champion tasked with responsibility over Digital Accessibility helps enable progress.