

India-in-a-box: A prepackaged business management solution to enable multinational enterprises implement IT infrastructure faster at their Indian subsidiaries.

India-in-a-box is based on industry standard Microsoft Dynamics ERP and enables companies to seamlessly extend their IT systems within eight weeks. This solution is built on a robust ERP platform, with the aid of proprietary tools and methodologies developed by Infosys experts.

Expanding in India: Challenges and opportunities

Enterprises face four primary challenges when expanding their business to India:

- Complexity: Complexity in matching the solution to the systems at the parent organization
- Specialization: Compliance to industry- or vertical-specific requirements
- Location: India-specific regulatory, market, and operational requirements supported by local resources
- Flexibility: Adapting to the Indian business environment and the ability to initiate, control, and track changes that impact the total cost of ownership (TCO), and upgrade deployments

Our solution features

Our prepackaged solution is an end-to-end business solution, specifically designed with a focus on 'easing the transition' from legacy systems to a state-of-the-art ERP system.

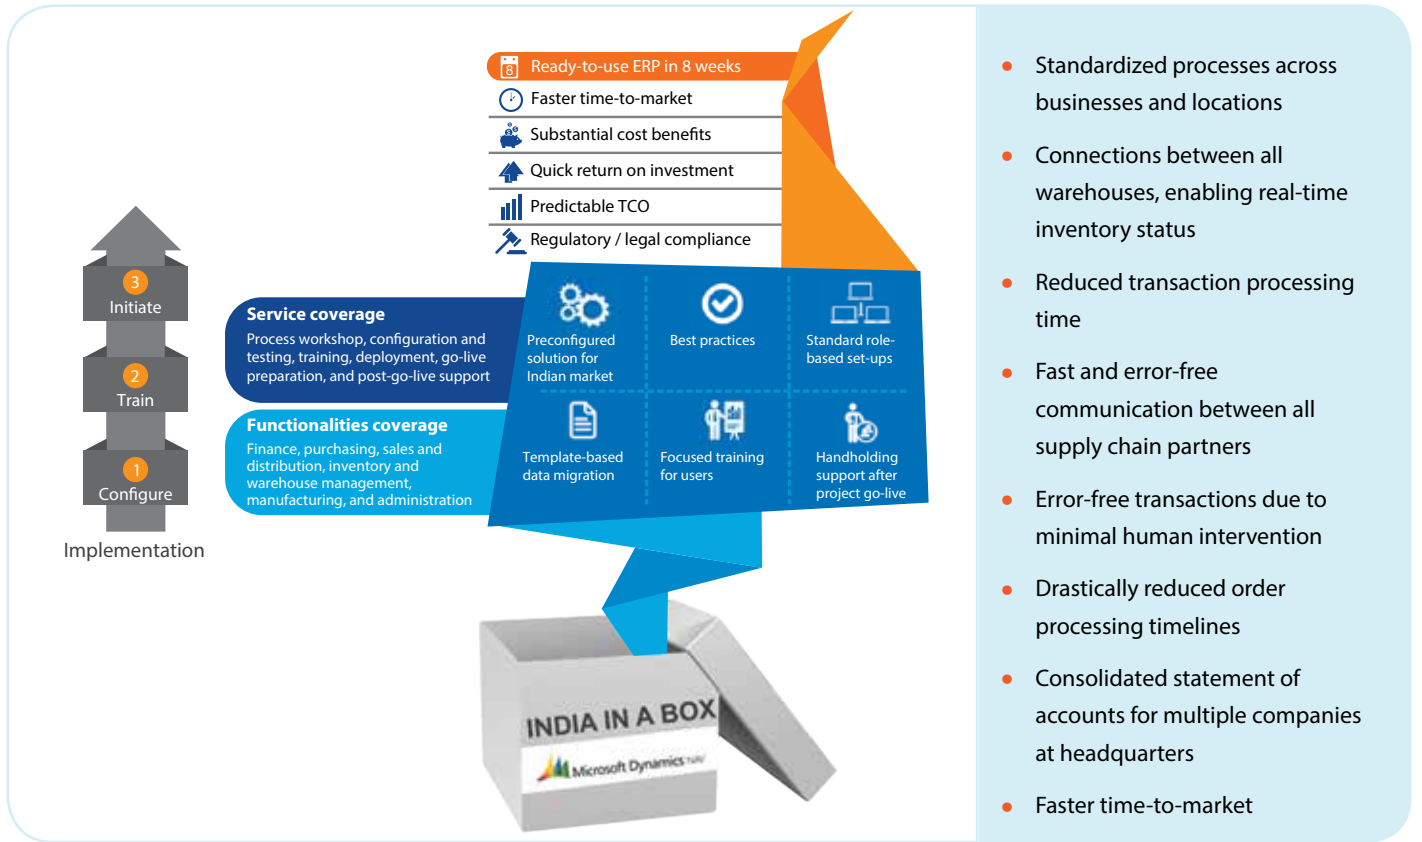

Key functionalities built into our ERP-based solution include:

- Financial management
- Supply chain management
- Production management
- Service, resource, and project management
- Employee management
- Customer management

Solution benefits

The India-in-a-box solution is designed to 'go-live' in under eight weeks, with minimal customization. It enables easy connectivity to the enterprise platform of the parent organization, ensuring easy consolidation of all data. It also helps achieve the following business outcomes:

The Infosys advantage

We have embedded several proprietary tools and methodologies in this solution to ensure quick and seamless implementation. Within eight weeks, using a three-step method, we complete the solution implementation. India-in-a-box also includes training, which enables users to get aligned to the organizational processes. Overall, crafted with the Infosys expertise and tools, the solution is a comprehensive and one-stop solution for all companies establishing subsidiary operations in India.

We have a team of experienced Microsoft Dynamics ERP resources across functional, technical, architectural, and project management streams. In addition, we have garnered rich experience through multiple Dynamics implementations across the globe.

Our Microsoft Dynamics AX practice: Key highlights

Partnership with Microsoft for their internal Microsoft Dynamics AX implementation

Early mover advantage: Involved in developing solutions on Microsoft products that have not yet been released to the marketplace

End-to-end offerings: Consulting, package evaluation, implementation, rollout, upgrades, and support
