PRESS RELEASE

Infosys Invests an Additional USD 1.5 Million in Waterline Data Science

Bangalore – March 22, 2018: Infosys (NYSE: INFY), a global leader in consulting, technology, outsourcing and next-generation services, today announced that it has made a follow-on investment of USD 1.5 million through the Infosys Innovation Fund in Waterline Data Science, a leading provider of data discovery and data governance software. Infosys had made an initial investment of USD 4 million in the company in January 2016.

Waterline Data Science provides data scientists and business analysts a self-service data catalog to help discover, understand and provision data, and an automated data inventory that enables agile data governance across metadata, data quality and data lineage.

The investment is expected to be completed by April 6, 2018, subject to necessary approvals.
