“There is an increased interest in offshore outsourcing as global corporations realize its benefits. Business opportunities continue to grow. However, the pricing environment remains challenging,” said Nandan M. Nilekani, CEO, President and Managing Director. “Our value proposition to clients remains strongly differentiated, despite the increasing presence of global competitors.”

“In spite of the challenging environment, Infosys continued to invest in sales, marketing and new services, while improving existing services. New services introduced over the last three years contributed significantly to current revenues,” said S. Gopalakrishnan, Member of the Board and COO. “Salaries were increased for our employees in India. Increased investments have been balanced with effective control of discretionary expenditure.”

“The strong growth in volume has exceeded our initial expectations,” said S. D. Shibulal, Member of the Board and Head – World-wide Customer Delivery. “Our utilization has further improved during the quarter. There has been a change in the onsite-offshore mix due to a higher component of offshore work.”

“Our continued investment in client-facing activities has enabled us to address client requirements more effectively and to deepen relationships. This has helped us manage a higher share of our clients’ wallet,” said Basab Pradhan, Head – World-wide Sales and Senior Vice President.

Infosys strengthened its presence in the financial services industry by partnering with clients to develop technology-enabled business solutions. A global banking enterprise selected Infosys to implement a sourcing strategy for reducing cost, improving the efficiency of internal operations, and enabling a quicker response to business needs, for its North American operations. A large, diversified bank based in the UK entered into a long-term strategic relationship with the company for its Information Technology (IT) requirements. Infosys is also designing and building a research portal for a provider of securities and investment banking functions.

The company strengthened its presence in the automotive and aerospace sector by commencing work for one of the Fortune 500 automotive companies in the U.S. Infosys will develop a consolidated requirements management and planning system for the client. In Europe, Infosys is assisting a leading automotive system supplier in the advanced simulation of various crash conditions.

“Increased efficiency and optimization of expenses have helped us maintain our margins despite the increase in salary cost,” said T. V. Mohandas Pai, Member of the Board and Chief Financial Officer. “We have pro-actively hedged our net receivables to mitigate the impact of rupee appreciation on our margins.”
