

Prime Minister Dr. Manmohan Singh to inaugurate Infosys training facility in Mysore on February 12, 2005

Bangalore, February 3, 2005: Infosys today announced that Prime Minister of India, Dr. Manmohan Singh will inaugurate the company's corporate training centre in Mysore on Saturday, February 12, 2005. In a first of its kind initiative, Infosys will centralize its training facility in Mysore and will train over 12,000 fresh engineering graduates annually. The Prime Minister will also visit the Infosys Leadership Institute, which is located in the same campus in Mysore.

Commenting on the occasion, Mr. N. R. Narayana Murthy, Chairman and Chief Mentor, Infosys Technologies Limited, said, "Our aim is to create a strong foundation for building leadership in the global knowledge economy. Therefore, training at Infosys not only focuses on process and quality but also lays emphasis on values and ethics aimed at creating more than just brilliant technology professionals. We believe this in turn helps Infosysians learn and assimilate changes quickly and bring business value to customers by leveraging assimilated knowledge."

"As we enter the era of global governance, we aim to create outstanding global leaders who balance intelligence with sensitivity. We are honored that one of India's most dynamic leaders and economic reformers, Dr. Manmohan Singh, is inaugurating our training centre," he added.
