Infosys BPO Wins Prestigious CSR Award for Project Genesis at the 8th National Outsourcing Association Awards in London

Bangalore, India, November 29, 2011 - Infosys BPO Ltd., today announced that it has been awarded the Corporate Social Responsibility (CSR) award at the 8th National Outsourcing Association (NOA) Awards, 2011 in London for 'Project Genesis', a community project entirely sponsored by Infosys BPO. The awards recognize the efforts of companies and individuals who have demonstrated excellence in the outsourcing industry.

Project Genesis aims at improving the employability of students from Tier 2 and 3 towns in India through focused training interventions conducted through the medium of their college academicians. The curriculum of Project Genesis includes two modules: 'Language Enhancement' and 'Analytical Skills'. The Language Enhancement module aims at improving the written and spoken communication capabilities of students from these towns. The Analytical Skills module aims at improving the aptitude capability of these students. The program is conducted in four well planned phases such that the impact on the students is highest, and that provides them with the proficiency required to enter and perform well in this dynamic industry.

Speaking about the award, Raghavendra K., Head – Human Resources Development, Infosys BPO said, "We are delighted to have received this award. We consider this award an acknowledgement that Project Genesis is heading in the right direction, and we are truly proud of this initiative, which is bound to aid students from Tier 2 and 3 towns in India, and also the BPO industry as a whole. Over the past six years, Project Genesis has helped us reach out to over 85,569 students through 3,138 academicians in 1,594 educational institutions across 7 states in India."

Project Genesis follows the 'Train the Trainer' model, in which academicians from identified colleges are trained over a period of 10 days on the Global Skills Enhancement curriculum at Infosys campuses. The complete training program is sponsored by Infosys BPO with no expense being incurred by the participating academicians.

About the National Outsourcing Association
The NOA (www.noa.co.uk) is the UK's only outsourcing trade association. The NOA is part of the larger umbrella organization, the European Outsourcing Association. Advocating best practice, the NOA represents outsourcing end users, vendors and other companies which support outsourcing, such as legal firms, consultancies and HR. The NOA is involved in research, events, education and public affairs. The vast quantity of information that the NOA has collected is referred to as BOOK (the Body of Outsourcing Knowledge).
