

Infosys Inducted into the 'Winner's Circle' in the HfS Enterprise Mobility Services Blueprint Report 2014

Bangalore – March 3, 2014: Infosys has been inducted into the 'Winner's Circle' of the 2014 Enterprise Mobility Services Blueprint Report by leading analyst firm HfS Research. Infosys received the highest scores for excellence in execution among 15 mobility services providers. The report also rated the company high on innovation capabilities, based on its strong vision for enterprise mobility and alignment with the evolving market.

Service providers in the HfS Research 'Winner's Circle' have demonstrated excellence in both execution and innovation. Execution represents the service providers' ability to develop strong relationships with clients, accomplish services beyond the scope of service level agreements, and be highly flexible when meeting clients' needs. Innovation represents the service providers' ability to have a strong vision and concrete plans to invest in future capabilities. In addition, these providers possess a healthy cross-section of vertical capabilities and demonstrate a strong ability to leverage external drivers to increase value for their clients.

In the report, HfS Research mentions that Infosys has:

- The breadth and depth of enterprise mobility service capabilities, with over a decade of experience. The company offers industry-focused mobility solutions for verticals like financial services, retail, life sciences, energy, utilities and manufacturing
- A comprehensive suite of IPs for mobile solutions that help reduce delivery time and costs
- A strong belief in co-creation to deliver 'innovation that matters'. Infosys embeds the identification and suggestion of new solutions in its management structure around every project
- Focus on single point of accountability for the duration of every engagement
- A dedicated 'Mobility Academy' to help engineers, through training and re-skilling, to stay at the forefront of industry trends

Ned May, SVP Research, Digital Transformation Services & Solutions, HfS Research:

"Mobility is rapidly becoming our primary method of digital engagement and this is now leading to a multitude of feature-rich mobile applications being introduced in the market to meet the evolving needs and expectations of customers. Infosys continues to fuel this growth through its innovative mobility strategies, deep technology capabilities and excellence in execution. It has emerged as a clear leader in the enterprise mobility space catering to global clients across many industries."

Sudeep Gautam, Vice President and Global Head, Enterprise Mobility, Infosys:

"Enterprises today are realizing the immense potential of mobility, which has now become the new frontier of commerce, collaboration and customer engagement. Our strategy to envision and create winning solutions, in partnership with clients, harnesses the true power and value of mobility. Our wide-ranging partner eco-system, global customer successes and investments in creating pre-built solutions are a testament to our ability to flawlessly execute and innovate. Our induction into the 'Winner's Circle' underscores our commitment to deliver superior mobility solutions, which deliver tangible business outcomes for our clients."
