Introduction

In an era defined by rapid change, global complexity, and digital disruption, businesses must evolve faster than ever. Traditional ERP systems often fall short—too slow to implement, too rigid to scale, and too complex to adapt. Infosys' ERP-in-a-Box offering changes the game. It's a pre-configured, cloud-based ERP solution built on Microsoft Dynamics 365 that empowers organizations to streamline operations, unify data, and accelerate decision making, all with minimal disruption and maximum speed.

Barriers to Transformation: What's Holding Enterprises Back?

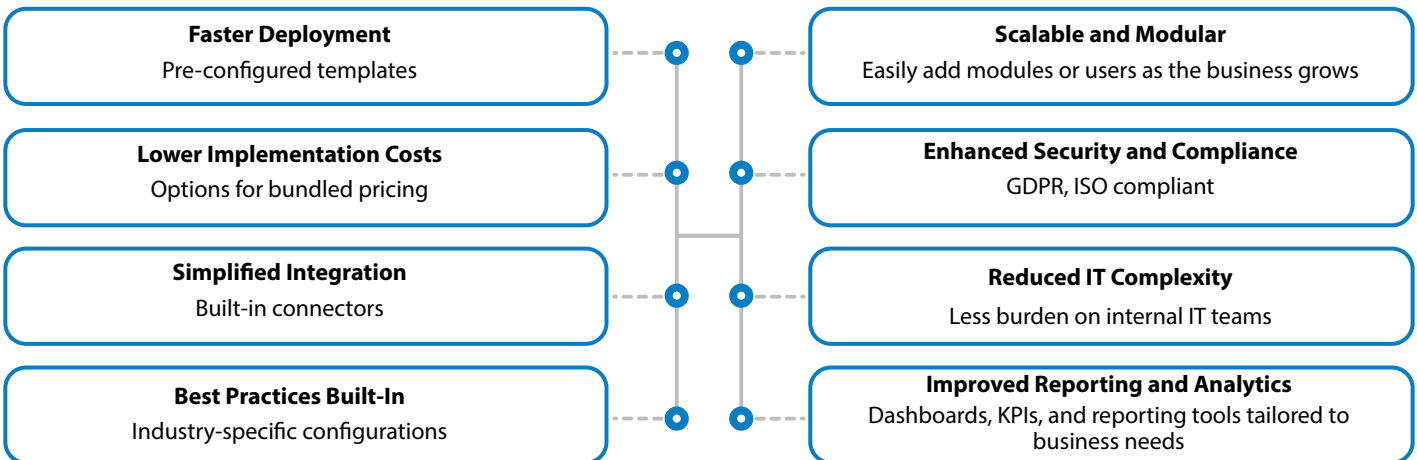

Despite the push toward digital agility, many organizations remain bogged down by legacy systems and operational inefficiencies. These persistent challenges not only slow down transformation but also limit innovation and scalability:

Why choose Microsoft Dynamics 365 ERP-in-a-Box?

An ERP-in-a-Box solution is a pre-configured, ready-to-deploy enterprise resource planning system that includes essential modules, integrations, and best practices tailored for specific industries or business sizes.
